United Nations, N. Y., June 25 (AP)—United Nations radio transmitters today beamed to Communist China and North Korea an urgent appeal by U.N. Secretary General Trygve Lie for Korean cease-fire negotiations based on a Russian proposal for a 38th Parallel truce.

Top-ranking U.N. officials acted swiftly after Soviet Delegate Jacob A. Malik proposed discussion among the "belligerents" for a cease-fire, armistice and "mutual withdrawal" from the parallel dividing North and South Korea. But diplomats at the U.N. and western foreign ministers displayed wariness.

Stop Fighting Now

Malik's proposal came on the eve of the Korean war's first anniversary. Lie quickly issued a statement urging immediate negotiations for a cease-fire to be followed by United Nations discussion of the political issues involved.

The president of the U.N. Assembly, Nasrallah Entezam, of Iraq, planned to ask Malik at once to expand on his proposal—the only U.N. delegate to indicate so far a

Frank T. Kimple, 63, Dies Of Burns Early Saturday Evening, Five Hours After His Buchanan Valley Home Is Destroyed By Fire

Frank T. Kimple, 63, Buchanan Valley, died Saturday night at 6:55 o'clock at the Warner hospital from third degree burns of the entire body suffered when his home caught fire and was completely consumed five hours earlier at about 1:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, said there would be no inquest into the fatal fire. He said that Mr. Kimple, a contractor, carpenter and farmer, blamed himself for the fire that caused his death later.

Talking to Dr. Bruce N. Wolf after he was brought to the Warner hospital here, the coroner reported Mr. Kimple said that he had been pouring kerosene into a stove in an attempt to start a fire for his noon meal. When the kerosene exploded, Mr. Kimple told the local surgeon, he attempted to beat out the flames but was trapped and unable to leave the house as the flames leaped from the stove to other sections of the frame dwelling.

Clothing In Flames

Neighbors said the entire two story house seemed to burst into flames at the same time.

Mr. Kimple, almost overcome by the blaze, dragged himself to a door and was found half in and half out of the door by Carl Baker, who lives nearby, and who was the first to reach the scene. His clothing was in flames when Baker pulled him from the blazing house. A blanket was wrapped around him.

Donald Bucher and James Herring, both of Cashtown, carried Mr. Kimple to the car of Joseph Kane, owner of Kane's hotel, who had arrived at the scene, and the three drove him to the hospital. Upon his arrival his condition was listed as critical. All parts of his body with the exception of the stomach were burned, including his tongue.

Mr. Kimple was alone in the house at the time of the catastrophe. A housekeeper, Lena Johns, had gone to Chambersburg about 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning, to spend the day.

Action Blazes In Korea Despite Armistice Suggestion By Russia

Tokyo, June 25 (AP)—The world talked of peace, but the Korean war roared into its second year today.

Chinese and North Korean Reds were more aggressive all along the 100-mile battlefield.

Communist jets streaked out of their Manchurian sanctuary on another typical hit-and-run attack.

Allied warships continued to pour a hail of steel into east coast ports in North Korea.

The cease-fire and armistice proposal by Russia's Jacob Malik had put no damper on the fighting.

Red ground forces showed more fight than usual. But by later afternoon there was still no sign of their expected anniversary offensive.

Red Jets Active

Allied officers, noting an ominous enemy buildup in the west, had predicted a limited Communist counterattack to celebrate the war's first birthday.

Thirty red-nosed MIG-15 jets darted back and forth across the Yalu river boundary of Manchuria Monday, jockeying for position to attack Fifth U. S. Air Force F-86 Sabre jets.

One of the Russian-made planes was shot down in flames. The Reds broke off the 10-minute battle and scurried back to safety in Manchuria.

It was the eighth day in the last nine that jet battles have swirled high over North Korea. The Reds have lost 13 planes destroyed and

PIRATES UPSET DODGERS TWICE; YANKEES GAIN

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

It may not be a breeze for Brooklyn after all. Unless Sunday's signs were wrong, those dashing Dodgers may find the pennant road a rough and rocky one.

The Dodgers dashed into yesterday's doubleheader against Pittsburgh with great anticipation. They were set to sweep both games and return to Flatbush pacing the National league by at least eight games.

After all, weren't the Pirates buried deep in the basement? And hadn't they lost 14 of their last 15 games at Forbes field? Furthermore, the Brooks had beaten them 10 consecutive times in Pittsburgh, including a 13-1, one-hit drubbing only the day before. And hadn't Brooklyn won nine of 11 on the road?

Lightning Strikes
It looked easy. Especially to those who had predicted the Dodgers would win the flag by a dozen games following the acquisition of outfielder Andy Pafko and pitcher Johnny Schmitz from Chicago.

But then lightning struck — not once but twice — as the pathetic Pirates rose up and dumped the Dodgers 10-7 and 5-4 to chop a game and a half from their first-place lead.

New York's second-place Giants overcame a 5-0 deficit to outscore the Cubs, 10-7, and climbed within six games of Brooklyn.

Stan Musial was a one-man show as he paced the St. Louis Cardinals to a 6-5 victory over the Boston Braves in 14 innings. Cincinnati and Philadelphia divided a double header. The Reds took the opener, 3-1. The Phils grabbed the second, 4-2.

New York's persistent Yankees whitened another half-game off the Chicago White Sox' first-place margin in the American league.

White Sox Split
The Yanks clipped the Indians, 5-3, and advanced to within one game of the White Sox who split a twin bill in Boston. Chicago won the opener, 6-5, but dropped the second, 8-6.

Detroit drubbed Washington 10-5 and the Philadelphia Athletics trampled the St. Louis Browns twice, 8-3 and 7-1.

Gil Hodges rapped three homers for the Dodgers. He now has 24 and is two days and two games behind Babe Ruth's record pace of 60 homers in 1927. Pafko hit two round trippers for the Dodgers and Ralph Kiner smashed No. 17 for the Pirates.

The last time the Bucs beat Brooklyn at Forbes field was June 8, 1950.

Paul Richards' Whit Sox returned to Chicago with only one victory in Fenway park where they lost three heart-breakers. After dropping 6-5 and 8-7 decisions Friday and Saturday, they lost another toughie yesterday after winning the opener.

RAY ROBINSON CLEARED AFTER LOSING FIGHT

Berlin, June 25 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson today was given a clean bill of health by the Berlin Boxing commission less than 12 hours after he was disqualified for illegal punching in an exhibition bout with Gerhard Hecht.

The commission declared the fight "no decision," which meant the bout was held but nobody had been judged the winner. Promoter Fred Kirsch made the announcement shortly before dawn after the commission had met for six hours in a special session.

Although Kirsch did not reveal what went on at the meeting, he did announce that Dr. Hans Aumann, one of the three members of the commission, had resigned — an indication the meeting was a stormy one.

The conference, however, couldn't have been much more stormy than the arena where the scheduled 10-round non-title fight was held last night.

Went Down Twice

Hecht, a light heavyweight, went down once in the first round, withering in pain, and was given a rest. Then, in the second session, Sugar Ray, world middleweight champion, hit him with two lefts and a right.

Down went Hecht again, clutching his back. The bout was stopped, and Robinson disqualified. The judges ruled Robinson hit Hecht with kidney punches, which are strictly illegal in Germany. Hecht was declared winner in the second round. This brought about a round of catcalls by the 25,000 spectators and many pop bottles went hurtling into the ring.

Officials, reporters and managers tried to avoid the messes. Robinson himself, ducked under the ring before police rushed the bewildered champion to his dressing room.

Poor Sportsmanship

When some order had been restored later, Robinson gave this account of the happenings:

"He told Referee Otto Nispel, when Hecht went down for the first time: 'You know that was no foul.'"

He quoted Nispel as replying: "I can't leave this ring. Do you want me killed? We must give him a rest."

"I'm sorry if the Germans think I'd come all this way to win on a foul," Robinson continued. "However, I'm glad that many Germans at ringside know it was not so. I don't care if I ever fight here again. This was the most unsportsmanlike conduct I have ever seen."

AMATEUR GIVES PATTY BATTLE

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

Philadelphia, June 25 (AP)—Patty Berg, the nation's number one woman golfer, has a little advice for her fellow lady professionals—don't get too cocky, girls, or the amateurs will cut you down to size.

It took all Patty's professional cunning Saturday to turn back the Women's Western Open championship bid of amateur Pat O'Sullivan.

The 23-year-old from Orange, Conn., came within an eyelash of upsetting the Minneapolis girl.

"The current crop of amateurs is very good," said Miss Berg. "There isn't much to choose between the average woman amateur and pro. The pro has a little more experience and plays more."

It was the lack of such experience that probably cost Miss O'Sullivan her chance to win the Western. The daughter of a Connecticut Supreme Court justice was faced with a problem on the 35th hole that a veteran pro might have played differently.

The match was all even. Miss O'Sullivan was on the fairway about 180 yards from the well-trapped green. Should she play with a short iron, or try for the green with a long wood?

Young Pat from New England started to use an iron, changed her mind and went for the wood. Away went the match. Miss O'Sullivan smacked a four wood into a yawning trap. She dubbed her sand explosion and went one down. The incident apparently broke the heart of the stout amateur. She also blew the final hole and Miss Berg won, 2-up.

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press)

Second place Allentown kept pace with the Interstate league leaders, Hagerstown, over the weekend but the tightest baseball was played in York.

Three well pitched games before crowds resulted in the York-Wilmington meetings. Wilmington won the Saturday night opener, 1 to 0, but York took the nightcap of a doubleheader, 2 to 1, and came back yesterday to win a single game by the same 2 to 1 score.

Hagerstown took a double bill from the cellar dwelling Salisbury Athletics, 11 to 4 and 4 to 3 to maintain its four game lead over Allentown.

Meanwhile at Allentown, the Cardinals defeated Sunbury, 10 to 7 and 7 to 1.

In another Sabbath doubleheader, Harrisburg defeated Lancaster's Red Roses by identical 2 to 1 scores.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

TO BE NEEDED

What an inward satisfaction it is to know and feel that there are people in the world, especially those near and dear to you, who need you. Work, in which there is satisfaction, and sacrifice made, because someone depends upon, and needs you—this is what gives incentive to us all.

It is a blessed thing to realize people need you, but the greatest joy comes from knowing you can fulfill that need to them. In emergencies people turn to those who have made themselves needed in the past.

This need on the part of others for us must not be confined to mere material help, or cooperation at times, but to that higher function of dispensing cheer, good will, and spiritual uplift. We all have those to whom to turn when in trouble of some sort, or when low in spirits, or when we need some guidance or advice. Likewise, others turn to us in their need.

It is to no one's credit to become a chronic leaver. To be needed by others is different. People attend divine worship because they need mental and spiritual nourishment and enrichment. None of us is so good or strong that he doesn't need something to reinforce his faith, or to increase his confidence in people or his country.

It is unfortunate, and often tragic, the way some people are snuffed out of life without those who may have depended upon them realizing how much they really needed them. What a joy to those who receive this need from day to day, when they express their appreciation. That warms the heart of the one who gives.

Many people have to be missed for a spell before it is realized how important and how greatly needed they are. It makes any of us feel happy to have others need us in some useful manner. It's the substantial folks who are needed first and most!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Remembered Perfume"

THE FAMILY "V.I.P."
He's a very important person.
As they say it: "V.I.P."
Though many as yet don't know him, he's certainly that to me. I am eager always to please him.
Whatever he wants I get.
I'd go to no end of trouble to keep him from being upset.

When first I went down to meet him, I'd made up my mind that he would receive the supreme attention that's due a celebrity. As they do for important persons, my best I would do for him. That he should live here in comfort. I'd bow to his slightest whim.

I bestow on him countless favors. Let the truth of the matter be told:
He's a very important person to me, though just three years old. I am anxious to keep him happy, whatever the cost may be. Though unknown as yet to the public, he's the family "V.I.P."

Tomatoes On Fence Will Give Top Yield In Smaller Space

Remove side shoots daily, to keep tomatoes pruned.

Careful tests has shown that on a given ground area more tomatoes can be grown on plants pruned to a single stem and tied to a stake or fence, than in any other way. They ripen earlier, too, and in many ways this method is best for the amateur with a small vegetable garden.

Single stem plants may be spaced a foot apart; plants pruned to double stems may stand 21 inches apart, while plants that sprawl on the ground require from 2 1/2 to 10 square feet, depending on variety.

What To Prune

Varieties of normal vine growth are the only kind that should be staked and pruned. So-called determinate varieties, of which the stems stop growing after they reach a certain length, while the plant devotes all its energies to ripening the fruit which has set, should never be pruned, and get no benefit from staking, but they may be planted 18 inches apart, and allowed to spread on the ground. They bear a good early crop, but over a shorter season than the normal varieties.

Single stem plants can be supported by a strong cord stretched from a tall support of any kind to an anchor on the ground near the plant. Then instead of tying the plant to its support as the stem grows it can be twisted around the cord, which is easier than tying.

Keeping tomato plants pruned and tied needs constant attention. At the joint where each leaf grows on the main stem, a branch will develop, and this must be cut or pinched off before it is four inches long, otherwise its removal may weaken the plant.

To grow a two-stem plant, select one branch coming from the main stem 10 inches above the surface, and allow both main stem and branch to grow. Single stem plants can be twisted about a supporting cord. Two-stem plants may be tied with material that will not cut arranged in a loose loop around the stem, to avoid constriction.

Tomatoes require full sun, heavy feedings and regular watering. When the soil is allowed to dry out, with fruit set, a black decay spot

Amoryllis May Be Moved Out Of Doors

Amoryllis that have bloomed indoors may be planted out now in perfect safety so that the bulbs will have a good chance to grow under normal conditions for the rest of the season. They should be transplanted without disturbing the roots to a sunny garden spot where they will have no interference from other plants or weeds and where the soil is well drained.

Prepare the planting holes well. Make them not less than eight inches deep and as wide, mixing with the soil a generous quantity of peatmoss and humus besides a good handful of bone meal.

Once a month give them a generous application of weak liquid manure and between these apply water freely when rainfall does not suffice to keep the roots supplied with all the water they can absorb. They need fair treatment if they are expected to flower again the coming year. Because they are injured by frost, lift the bulbs promptly after the first light frost or just before and store upright in a cool dry cellar for the winter.

SOLVING

GLADIOLUS PROBLEMS

Thrips, tiny sap-sucking insects, are now troublesome wherever gladioli are grown. Crooked stems are reported by many inexperienced growers. Bacterial leaf blight occasionally invades plantings. Mosaic may cause stunting and prevent blooming. To meet these common troubles the editor offers a few simple remedies and preventive measures.

Thrip attacks are usually first seen as yellow and browning of leaf sheaths and a gradual silencing of the foliage. Badly infested plants later look like the leaves have been seared by a flame. Beginners often diagnose the trouble as "some kind of blight" because they fail to observe the tiny thrips feeding mainly out of sight beneath the sheaths.

Gladiolus thrips live over winter among stored corms and are there by introduced to new plantings. Fumigation of corms in late fall or early winter with naphthalene flakes is recommended, followed by disinfection in a mercuric chloride solution before planting. At this time of the year direct combat is often necessary and should be started at the first signs of the characteristic silencing. Tartar emetic is now widely employed at the rate of 6 1/2 level teaspoonsful to 3 gallons of water, with a scant cupful of brown sugar added. The tartar emetic should be worked into a thin paste before it is added to the water. Spray every 10 days until the first flowers are almost ready to open.

Crooked stems are not the result of disease or insect attacks. Lack of soil moisture during the formative stage causes the stem to wilt over. Once this occurs, the stem cannot regain its straightness, even though moisture supplies are ample throughout the remainder of the growing season. The remedy is simple. Just keep the growing plants from wilting at any time. Incorporating plenty of organic matter (humus) deeply in the soil, plus irrigation once a week in dry weather, is the key. Herein irrigation means soaking the soil to a depth of at least 4 to 6 inches, not merely sprinkling.

Early symptoms of the bacterial blight are seen as water-soaked spots in the leaves which enlarge lengthwise, forming rectangular lesions which turn brown. Spraying every 10 days with Bordeaux mixture when plants are small will prevent this blight. Of course, such a course of prevention must be adopted before the symptoms are visible. Therefore, it is advisable to spray where blight was troublesome the previous year.

Mosaic is a virus disease, similar to blood poisoning in the human body. No sprays or dusts are effective. Leaves are stunted and their coloring is mottled. The virus may be carried from plant to plant by aphids. Pulling and burning infected plants at the first signs of mosaic is the only known way to curb the spread. Of course, plant lice should be kept under complete control.

Gladiolus corms may be planted any time during the next two weeks and still produce flowers before frosts arrive. Keeping the soil moist to promote rapid germination and sustained growth through hot, dry weather will insure vigorous plants and blooms.

The editor invites all gladiolus questions readers wish to ask.

Method Discovered To Prevent Wilt

Three years of experimental work on the part of Howard C. Taylor, of Rosedale Nurseries, at Eastview, N. Y., has resulted in the development of a product that bids fair to revolutionize the while procedure of nursery handling of plants and be a great boon to the amateur gardener as well, according to J. W. Johnston in the New York Herald Tribune.

In the past, transplanting of many varieties of ornamental stock ceased with the approach of summer and bold was the garden maker who risked moving a tree shrub or evergreen after the midspring deadline. Mr. Taylor is not only transplanting all types of plant material but guaranteeing them to live and flourish as well. One outstanding illustration of the effectiveness of the new material is contained in the successful transplanting of a forty-foot pin oak in full foliage, a tree not too easy to move in that size at any time.

American cows produced 120,000,000 pounds of milk last year, a near record. The best year was 1946 when 121,000,000 were produced.

ENEMY PLANES PIERCE DEFENSE OF TWO NATIONS

Colorado Springs, Colo., June 25 (AP)—The United States and Canada tried out their growing air defense network this week-end. They found it still wanting.

Mock enemy bombers drilled their way through clouds and valleys past radar and civilian spotters. Despite jet interceptor flights and simulated anti-aircraft fire, they ranged over every vital target area involved.

Need Volunteers
But air defense command officials were happy with the prime object of the exercise: to test and train thousands of civilian volunteers in observation posts and filter report centers.

The western commander, Maj.

Gen. Hugo P. Rush, called them invaluable. At the same time, he said both more volunteers and more training are needed.

The need was demonstrated to the eastern commander, Maj. Gen. Frederic H. Smith, Jr., by the bad weather which forced simulated attackers to fly in at low levels, often out of the range of radar.

The Air Defense Center here at Ent Air Base said it would release an evaluation later. But Smith pointed up these other lessons:

Biggest Joint Maneuver
A heavy mock attack from the Atlantic "emphasized a requirement for assistance of navy radar and fighters."

The penetrations showed the need for anti-aircraft guns for close-in defense at important centers. Smith said the ADC doesn't claim radar and fighters would halt every attacking aircraft before it reaches its target. Rather, the defense network is designed to minimize any attack on this nation.

The exercise was the largest of its kind since World War II and the first joint maneuver of the Canadian, eastern, central and western commands in more than two years. It started Friday, with only the military taking part. Saturday civilians went on duty for 36 hours.

One navy pilot was killed and an air force and air national guard pilot were injured in the eastern phase of the exercises.

Packard Patrician '400'—most advanced motor car in America

Close-up....of an American Tradition!

Sooner or later, every quality-conscious American family falls in love with a Packard...

And never has the pride of Packard ownership been so completely practical, because here you're getting not only the newest car of the year... but the car most likely to stay that way for many years to come! Just consider points like these:

You get the efficiency, and the incredible smoothness, of new Packard Thunderbolt engines—America's highest-compression eight. Plus: the service-free simplicity of a design with up to 25% fewer working parts than in engines of comparable power.

You get the amazing ease and smoothness of Packard's exclusive Ultramatic Drive. And with it: the extra efficiency of no gas-wasting slippage when cruising.

You get the famed Packard Limousine Ride, with all its new refinements—a ride that's unequalled anywhere for gentle smoothness and enduringly firm roadability.

The deeper you look, the better you'll know why Packard has chalked up the most illustrious durability record in automotive history. For it's a fact that of all the Packards built—in the last 52 years—over 50% are still in service!

So, in buying with an eye on the years ahead—this all-new 1951 Packard is a car you must not miss. See and drive it. And if you fall in love with it within the first fleeting hour—don't be surprised...

LEAH A. ABEL,
ROY MAITLAND
WED SATURDAY

Miss Leah A. Abel, daughter of Stephen Abel and the late Mrs. Abel, Wrightsville, and Roy M. Maitland, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Maitland, Littlestown, were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Trinity Lutheran church, Wrightsville. The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. J. M. Spangler, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Russell Maitland, Littlestown, sister-in-law of the groom, as matron of honor. Her bridesmaids were Dr. Florence Krejci, Cleveland, Ohio, her roommate at the Temple University School of Medicine; Miss Louise Heller, York, and her cousin, Miss Ruth Abel, Columbia. The bridesroom has as his best man, his brother, Russell Maitland, Littlestown, George A. Maitland and Richard A. Maitland, Littlestown, brothers of the groom, and Fred Wood, Hampton, Va., brother-in-law of the groom, served as ushers.

Give Organ Recital

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white organza embroidered gown, fashioned with a Peter Pan collar, a fitted bodice, with full skirt and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her fingertip length veil was of tulle, and she carried an all-white bridal bouquet. The matron of honor wore white organza with a blue underskirt. Dr. Krejci wore white organza with a lilac underskirt and Miss Heller and Miss Abel were also in white organza with underskirts of green. All of the attendants' gowns were of ballerina length, fashioned with Peter Pan collars. The attendants wore white mitts and white picture hat, trimmed to match their gowns, and they carried bouquets of mixed spring flowers. The men of the bridal party wore formal summer attire.

Lloyd Filby, church organist, presented a 15-minute recital prior to the ceremony and served as accompanist for Mrs. J. M. Spangler, who sang "Ich Liebe Dich," by Greig, and "I'll Walk Beside You," Murray. He also played the traditional wedding marches.

Hold Two Receptions

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the parish house for approximately 200 guests. Later in the evening, a reception was held for approximately 50 guests at the home of the groom's parents in Littlestown. The couple received many gifts. A five-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, formed the centerpiece of the bride's table.

Guests were present at the reception from Hampton, Va., Baltimore, Washington, D. C., Wrightsville, Columbia, York, Hanover, Cleveland, O., and Littlestown.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Maine, and for going away the bride chose a white suit with all-white accessories. Mrs. Maitland is a graduate of the Wrightsville high

Shetter was a navy veteran who completed his education at West Chester State Teacher's college after his discharge and later accepted a position at Trinity college. MOST MILES PER GALLON 2¢ SAVING PER GALLON

Official surveys show that Blue Sunoco has a "higher specific gravity" (weighs more) than practically all premium-priced gasolines. As automotive engineers know, this extra weight means extra energy... more mileage. Careful road tests showed that due to this extra weight and energy, the mileage from Blue Sunoco was unsurpassed by any premium-priced gasolines.

High-test Blue Sunoco sells at regular gas price, which is usually 2 cents a gallon below premium-priced gasolines. In spite of its low price, in many ways high-test Blue Sunoco gives you more value for your money... because of its outstanding balance of such qualities as anti-rust, quick-starting, anti-stalling, clean burning, long mileage and high-test action.

ROAD TESTED from Quebec to Key West and back under the exacting supervision of famous American Automobile Association, test cars were not babied... not pampered. They were driven as you would drive your own car.

DOZEN TANKERS ARE JAMMING PORT OF ABADAN

Abadan, Iran, June 25 (AP) — A dozen tankers jammed the port of Abadan today, stopped from sailing with their cargoes of gasoline and oil from the world's largest refinery here. The ships belong to the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company which Iran recently nationalized.

The company's British manager, A. E. C. Drake, warned that millions of gallons backing up into the plant's limited oil storage facilities might force a shutdown of the installation which supplies the lion's share of oil for Europe's defense effort. Drake told the Iranians:

"If we are forced to shut down, you must name responsible officials to take over immediately a dangerous situation — unless you want to see Abadan go up in flames."

Despite its legal action, Iran has not yet taken over actual operation of AIOC's facilities. Shutdown of a refinery, handled inflammable products, is an extremely complicated task requiring highly trained personnel to avoid a disaster.

One tanker, the Dolabella, managed to slip out yesterday despite an Iranian threat of "naval action" and got safely away over the sandbar at the mouth of the Tigris and Euphrates. Iranian soldiers prevented another, the British Empress, from weighing anchor.

The port usually clears five or six tankers a day.

The ships are held by an Iranian demand that the captains sign receipts saying they own the "Iranian National Oil Company" for the cargo taken abroad. The captains have refused. The National Oil Company was set up by Iran to take over the British-controlled AIOC.

A compromise receipt form was worked out yesterday in which the captains acknowledge pumping aboard a certain amount of oil, but leave unstated who is to receive payment. Four ships sailed after their masters signed these.

When the forms were studied,

RAID WARNING GETS GOOD TEST

Adams county's air raid warning system received a thorough testing over the week-end, when airplane spotters and the county's warning system both alerted during the period.

Spotters manned stations for aerial observation throughout the county from 9 o'clock Saturday morning until 6 o'clock Sunday evening.

At the Gettysburg spotter station 20 women alternated in operating the station, sighted two planes Saturday morning, heard two planes about 8 o'clock Saturday night and spotted another Sunday.

Miss Martha Stallmish, head of the local airplane spotter station, again appealed to town residents who may have a flat roofed building to volunteer use of the structure as an observation station.

Observation is poor from Lincoln Square, she said, unless planes are directly overhead, and traffic noises prevent hearing the approach of planes.

The warning system was alerted Saturday with a yellow alert at 1:20, a red alert at 1:31 and a white, all clear, call at 2:03 o'clock.
